

SAYS GEN. GRANT WAS 'PROPHET OF PEACE'

DR. JOHN WESLEY HILL OF NEW YORK MADE ADDRESS AT GALENA TODAY.

REGARDED WAR AS PEACE MEANS

Speaker Urges Preparedness For the Nation Must Be Ready For Defense.

(Associated Press)
Galena, Ill., Apr. 27.—Dr. John Wesley Hill of New York City, general secretary of the World's Court League of America, this afternoon made the chief address at the celebration of the birthday of General U. S. Grant. Visitors were here from all parts of the state. The city was decorated with the national colors in honor of the great soldier and statesman who for so many years made his home here.

After dwelling on Gen. Grant's military achievements, Dr. Hill spoke of questions springing out of the present European war, putting special emphasis on General Grant's prophecy of world peace. Among other things Dr. Hill said:

"Seated yonder upon Mount McGregor, his life slowly ebbing out, the scenes of time gradually fading from his vision, the soul of the silent soldier was absorbed in a great dream. He was not thinking of Vicksburg or Chattanooga or the wilderness, not recalling the astounding victories he won over greater obstacles than those encountered by any other warrior in the history of the world. He was thinking of the future, brooding over the interests and issues of his country in years to come, contemplating the highest good of his people, and the greatest glory of the flag we all love so well.

"Hear him: 'Let us have peace.' That was the fitting valedictory of the great soldier who, having established peace through war, said in the Guild Hall, London, 'I never have felt any sort of fondness for war and never have advocated it except as a means of peace,' and who, upon the adoption of the treaty by which the Alabama claim was settled without war, declared, 'I regard this as the first of a long series of arbitrations to follow, which ultimately will supersede war. England and the United States are so far advanced that such settlements are possible, and when two or three more nations come up to this level, they will not allow the other nations to go to war.' Thus the hero of Appomattox takes his place as the prophet of Universal Peace.

"Would to God that the world might pause in the midst of the present unspeakable outburst of barbarism and listen anew to the words of wisdom which fell from the lips of the soldier statesman who, knowing the havoc and horror of war, advocated the arbitration of reason rather than force, and foretold the era of peace and brotherhood.

"Today civilization is at the parting of the ways. Humanity has reached the cross-roads of destiny. What the outcome will be, we scarcely dare attempt to prophesy. Some less, however, are striking and apparent. First, the lesson of preparedness. There are those who dally with peace, who advocate peace at any price, and apparently contemplate the pacifying of national asperities by the waving of a wand. We must not forget, however, that mere sentiment lacks dynamic force. 'God helps them who help themselves.' Be sure you are right, then go ahead. But unless you are ready to defend the right and back up the right in an emergency, you had better not start. Peace must be more than an iridescent dream. To be of value, it must resolve itself into a productive power. ***

WORK STARTED ON TOWNSHIP PAVING

STAKES ARE SET AND FORMS FOR CONCRETE CURBING ARE BEING PLACED.

TAYMAN, RUSSELL INSPECTORS

Engineer G. H. T. Shaw has finished setting stakes for the levels of the brick pavement on the Lincoln highway east of this city and Contractors Rink & Schnell have started the work of excavating for the forms for curbing to be built on either side of the pavement. There is about a two foot excavation on the hill near the Buftett place and this will be pulled over to fill a low place further on.

The stakes for the levels of the colony road are being set today. Contractors Duffy & Hubbard have men widening culverts and with the completion of this work will be started in putting in forms for the concrete curbing.

The highway commissioners have selected E. A. Tayman as inspector of the work on the colony road and Chas. Russell as inspector on the Lincoln highway east of town.

GIRLS SLAYER SAVED FROM MOB

Kansas Who Would Lynch Him, Dispersed After Search.

(Associated Press)
Lawrence, Kas., Apr. 27.—The mob which sought to lynch Fred Bissel, the alleged slayer of Edna Dinsmore, dispersed early today, a majority of the men returning to Topeka when it was learned, after an inspection of the jail, that Bissel was not there. He was taken to the state prison at Lansing for safe keeping.

Charles Crabtree, wife and son arrived today from Los Angeles and will reside in this city. Mr. Crabtree last fall purchased a 20-acre tract in Palmyra.

all our hopes, proclaims the triumphs of our wondrous past, and is vital with the patriotic spirit of a people who glory in Americanism.

"Let it be known, however, that militarism is not our goal; that while we are obliged under the present order to march over this bloody cause-way we are climbing toward a higher, diviner level, namely, the establishment of justice and amity among all the peoples of the earth. To accomplish this we must catch something of the spiritual vision of Grant, and a glimpse of the cloudless dawn when international disputes shall be settled at the bar of international justice."

VERDICT OF DOLLAR AGAINST THE CITY

JAMES GILLAN IS AWARDED ONE DOLLAR AGAINST CITY OF DIXON BY CIRCUIT COURT

HECKMAN FOUND NOT GUILTY

Jury Finds Jacob Heckman Was Not To Blame For Automobile Mishap.

After being out nearly 36 hours the jury in the case of James Gillan of Maytown vs. City of Dixon returned a verdict awarding the plaintiff $1. The case was given to the jury Wednesday. On the first ballot taken they were about equally divided and late in the evening they were no nearer a verdict. Under instructions from the court the bailiff was directed to keep them out until a verdict was reached. This morning they reached the verdict above stated.

Heckman Not Guilty.
The jury in the case of James Hutchinson vs. Jacob Heckman reversed the verdict of the justice court, finding the defendant not guilty after four hours' deliberation over the case.

This was a case in which a machine driven by Mr. Heckman collided with one driven by Mr. Hutchinson on the Franklin Grove road. It was alleged that the defendant was on the wrong side of the road when the accident occurred. The verdict of the jury came as a surprise to those who had followed the case. It is expected that a new trial will be asked.

Other Case Settled.

Inasmuch as the Asher case, set for trial today, had been settled out of court there was no work for the jury and they were excused until 9 a. m. Friday, when the appeal case of Ida LeSage, executrix of the last will of Charles A. E. LeSage, deceased, vs. Joseph McGrath will be taken up. It is expected this case will be finished by noon and in the afternoon the case of the Sterling Wholesale Grocery Co. vs. Lars Rissitter and J. W. Rhoads is set for trial. This case is the outgrowth of the sale of a bill of goods the grocery firm made to the defendants who conducted a grocery store at Scarborough.

CONDUCT CAMPAIGN TO INFLUENCE SENATE

WISCONSIN DEMOCRAT TELLS OF RECEIVING THOUSANDS OF LETTERS.

(Associated Press)
Washington, Apr. 27.—Husling, democrat, told the senate today that an American Embargo Conference has conducted a campaign in Wisconsin to induce him to support an embargo resolution against shipment of war munitions to Europe. He submitted thousands of letters from Wisconsin citizens, the campaign for which he said emanated from Chicago headquarters of the organization.

Charges Plot.

Husting declared there is a deep plot to poison the minds of the citizens of the United States with the thought that the president wants war when every fact gives the lie to the assertion. He asked congressional investigation, but the senate took no action.

IDE CASE PUT OVER UNTIL SEPTEMBER

ATTORNEY CONTENTS THAT FAIR TRIAL AT PRESENT IS IMPOSSIBLE.

Today in the circuit court Attorney H. A. Brooks on behalf of Seymour Ide, indicted by the grand jury on a charge of murder, made a motion for a continuance of the case to the September term, setting forth that it would be impossible at this time to get a fair hearing in the case, as the minds of the people had become inflamed with accounts of the case that had appeared in local papers as well as other papers in the county. The court sustained the motion and in consequence the case will go over for the term.

GENERALS WILL MEET; EL PASO OR JAUREZ

FUNSTON AND SCOTT LEFT SAN ANTONIO TODAY TO MEET GEN. OBREGON.

DETAILS OF FIGHT APRIL 22

(Associated Press)
The conference between Generals Scott, Funston and Obregon will take place at El Paso or Jaurez. Scott and Funston will leave San Antonio tonight, but it is not probable that Obregon will reach there before Saturday.

San Antonio, Tex., April 27.—New details of the battle April 22 between Colonel Dodd's column and Villistas say that the fighting began at 4:30 in the afternoon and continued until dark. The Mexican force included the officers, Baca, Rios, Cervantes and Dominguez. The Americans killed were: Sadler, R. A. Raw and Private Barshree of Troop H. General Pershing's dispatch included mention of an engagement April 22 between American forces under Colonel Erwin and Villa troops at Cocomarache. Four Mexicans were reported mortally wounded in the affair.

Pursuit of Villa Resumed.

Columbus, N. M., April 27.—Several detachments of American troops have resumed active pursuit of Villa and are whipping the mountains north and west of Parral, where the bandit chieftain is reported to be hiding. The advanced base, 300 miles south of the border, is now completely equipped, trainload after trainload of motor trucks having arrived here within the last ten days bringing rations, clothing and equipment.

Two U. S. Troops Die in Fight.

Namiquipa, Mex., April 27.—Dodd's column on the afternoon of April 22 met the rear guard of the Villa forces, 200 strong, under four chiefs, Cervantes, Baca, Dominguez and Rios, near Tomachic, in the Sierra Madre. Dodd, though outnumbered, drove the enemy to the hills, scattering them in a running fight lasting till after dark. The Villa men were re-enforced by the main body from the northeast. Our losses are two dead and three wounded. The enemy is retreating in the direction of Guerrero. A pack train is carrying the American dead and wounded. Colonel Dodd praises the fortitude and endurance of his men under the severest conditions. They were in the saddle two days and nights in a region the roughest and hillest in that section.

VAN WINKLE'S WAGE SUIT WAS SETTLED

FABIAN STREIFF GOT $3,625 AS WAGES EARNED OVER 25 YEARS AGO.

SUIT CALLED AT MORRISON

Attorneys and Principals, However, Got Together and Fixed It Up Tuesday.

Morrison, Apr. 26.—One of the most interesting and unusual cases of this term of court was that of T. J. Lahey against Henry Reedy, which came before Judge Ramsay at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon. The parties compromised and settled the matter satisfactorily outside of court. Tuesday so the case was withdrawn and the jury was not called.

The case was peculiar and of considerable interest in this locality. Suit was brought by T. J. Lahey of Fulton, conservator for Fabian Streiff, against Henry Reedy, a farmer near Albany, claiming $2,000 wages for 34 years' work. He disappeared from his home in Wisconsin 34 years ago and after going to work for Reedy became known as "Cappy Snyder."

Streiff stayed with Reedy and worked for him on his farm, for 34 years, the only recompense he received being a little spending money, chewing tobacco and once in a while a suit of old clothes. After 34 years he became feeble and was unable to do a very large amount of work so Reedy turned him off without giving him any money and told him he would have to find a home and employment elsewhere. He then tried to work his way back to his former home in Wisconsin and after wandering as far as Elizabeth, Ill., he was taken in by a farmer near there. After hearing his story this man sent Streiff back to the Whiteside county farm and then wrote to his relatives back in New Glarus. He got into communication with Peter Streiff, a cousin of Fabian Streiff, who finally came to Morrison to see if the man really was the long lost relative. After investigating the matter he had T. J. Lahey appointed conservator for Streiff, who started a suit against Reedy last winter for $25,000 for unpaid wages.

Loveland of New Glarus and McMahon and Rogers of Fulton were the attorneys for Lahey and L. T. Stocking and Judge Ward for Reedy. The case was settled outside of court on Tuesday, Streiff receiving $3,625 from the defendant, each side paying its own costs.

The Northwestern has a large gang of men working out of this city. A camp was established a couple of days ago in the east end of the yards for the extra gang working east of the city and today a second camp was established east of the viaduct over the Illinois Central tracks. In the three camps are close to 200 men. The men of the new camp will work on the additional tracks being put in at the cement plant. A work train is bringing dirt from the cut-off to make the fill for the new tracks.

IRELAND SITUATION REGARDED SERIOUS

TROOPS HAVE BEEN REINFORCED AS RIOTING IN DUBLIN CONTINUES.

Martial Law Through Ireland

(Associated Press)
London, Apr. 27.—In the House of Lords today Viscount Middleton attacked the government for its failure to take warning regarding the activities of the Sinn Feiners. The situation in Ireland, he asserted (is one of great danger.

Casement Insane?

Sir Roger Casement, who is occupying the same cell in the Tower of London which held Carl Hans Lody before his execution as a spy, is said to have expressed a belief that the up rising in Ireland will be a failure because of his capture.

Several newspapers support the theory advanced by Sir Conan Doyle a year ago that Casement is insane. The Westminster Gazette advocates that he be placed in a lunatic asylum.

Martial Law Throughout Ireland

Martial law has been declared throughout all of Ireland and fighting still continued on the streets of Dublin today. Premier Asquith today announced that Major General Maxwell, who formerly commanded the British forces in Egypt, would leave for Ireland this afternoon and had been given plenary powers, under martial law, over the whole country. The troops in Ireland have been strongly reinforced and Asquith announced that the government is now satisfied the force there is adequate to deal with the situation.

London, April 27.—A German raider involved in the attempt to land troops and ammunition on the coast of Ireland last Friday morning blew herself up. Lord Lansdowne announced in the house of lords. The raider was blown up by her crew after being captured. The raider was disguised as a Dutch trader, instead of as a Norwegian as was originally reported. Sir Roger Casement and two companions made their escape to shore from the German submarine, accompanying the raider, in a collapsible boat, but were captured on landing.

London, April 27.—It is stated semi-officially that Sir Roger Casement, when captured, carried documents implicating prominent Irishmen in the revolutionary plot. These have been acted by the government.

London, April 27.—The Daily News states that the total casualties to date in Ireland are forty-two killed and forty-six wounded.

London, April 27.—Drastic steps have been taken by the British government to suppress the rising in Dublin by the proclamation of martial law in the city and county and by proclaiming the associations which took part in the movement illegal organizations, which will enable the police to break them up.

This was announced in the house of commons by Premier Asquith, who, while making a more reassuring statement regarding the situation in the Irish capital, did not add much to previous knowledge of what has happened there since Monday at noon when rebels took possession of the post office and certain sections of the city.

A Curious Ball Game.
Theodore Roosevelt, writing in Scribner's of his Brazilian journey, describes a curious game of ball played by the Pareis Indians, in which the head alone is used.
"There are, of course," he writes, "no such rules as in a game among civilized men, and I saw no disputes. There may be eight or ten or many more players on each side. The ball is never touched with hands or feet or with anything except the top of the head. It is hard to decide whether to wonder most at the strength and dexterity with which it is hit or batted with the head as it comes down through the air or at the reckless speed and skill with which the players throw themselves headlong on the ground to return the ball if it comes low down."
"Why do they not grind off their noses I cannot imagine. Some of the players scarcely ever failed to catch and return the ball if it came in their neighborhood and with such a vigorous toss of the head that it often flew in a great curve for a really astonishing distance."

Yale-Harvard Boat Races.
The Harvard-Yale varsity four mile race will be rowed on Friday, June 23, on the Thames river at New London, Conn., according to the tentative regatta program, just made public. On account of tidal conditions the race will be rowed up stream for the third successive year. There will be five events on the program—a graduate eight oar race Thursday afternoon, June 22, first and second freshman eight oar races Friday morning, to be followed by the second varsity eight oar race and then the final event between the first varsity crews.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Edward T. Collins, Great Second Baseman.

Eddie Collins, captain and second baseman of the Chicago White Sox, is generally conceded to be the king of players in that position. Collins made his debut as a big leaguer with Connie Mack, as everybody knows. He was a student at Columbia university when Connie got his signature in 1906. The next year he became a regular. He was a shortstop at Columbia, but he failed to make good for Mack either at short or the outfield. But he could hit, and Mack experimented with him. He placed him on second base in 1908. "That's his pocket," said Mack after watching his speed flash in a few games at second base. "He will be the greatest in the game in a couple of seasons." In December, 1913, Mack sold Eddie Collins to Charles A. Comiskey of the White Sox.

Princeton's Track In Stadium.
The new athletic track at Princeton, which is being built in the Palmer stadium, will be ready for use by May 12, when the interscholastic and the varsity meet with Virginia will be held. The new track will be a quarter of a mile in circumference and will have straightaways on either side of 220 yards. The width of the oval track will be eighteen feet, while that of the straightaways will be twenty-three feet. These general proportions will give a running surface that will be superior to those of the tracks at Yale or Pennsylvania and will rank in general excellence with that of Harvard. The stadium straightaways will be broader by several feet than those of Harvard, a track which has always been rated one of the best among colleges.

Cork Mats a Failure.
The patented cork mats, of which so much was expected by the Amateur Athletic union authorities, failed to meet the necessary requirements in the running high jump at the national championships. In fact, the mats were anything but useful, and it was due to their failure to hold that Wesley Oler, Jr., of Yale could not clear five feet eleven inches. The cork mats were substituted for dirt pits and were supposed to allow for the use of spiked shoes. In this requirement they were complete failures, and Oler did not attempt to wear his spiked shoes until his final attempt at five feet eleven inches. The jarring the jumpers received when alighting on these mats also upset their form.—New York Times.

Duluth Gets Boat Races.
The annual championship scull and gig races of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen will be held under the auspices of the Duluth Boat club of Duluth, Minn., Aug. 11 and 12. Invitations from Lynn, Mass., and Buffalo were considered before the regatta was awarded to Duluth, but their claims were rejected because the races had not been held in the west in more than four years. The business men of Duluth, it was stated, have agreed to assume all financial obligations in connection with the transportation of boats and crews to that city.

Yale-Harvard Boat Races.
The Harvard-Yale varsity four mile race will be rowed on Friday, June 23, on the Thames river at New London, Conn., according to the tentative regatta program, just made public. ## Daddy's Bedtime Story

Bibbly Wah's Friend, the Captain, Dealt In Seashells.

"BIBBLY WAH night!" clapped Jack and Evelyn. So daddy took them on his lap and told them: "One of the most interesting guests that used to come to Uncle Ben's farm was a sea captain who was the grandson of Uncle Ben's grandfather's friend. This captain sailed all the tropical seas and used to bring back all kinds of the most beautiful seashells for Bibbly Wah. It would take me all night to tell you the story of the different kinds she always carried around in her coat pocket. But what I want you to remember now is that seashells are so valuable that before the war England used to sell about $1,000,000 worth each year and that the United States uses about 1,000,000 tons of shells yearly."
"What for, daddy?" cried Jack.
"Oh, so many interesting things! But, first of all, try to think how many daddies of small families so many tons of seashells keep at work for money to support these same small families. One of the biggest uses for shells is for roadbeds. Oyster and clam shells are best for this because they are so hard. Then count all the pretty white pearl buttons on the back of Evelyn's dress, and you will see another use for mother-of-pearl, which is the lining of certain big seashells. Then look at mother's jewel case when you go up to bed, and you will find another beautiful use, inlaid work in blue enamel. Then many kinds of lovely handmade furniture are also inlaid with mother-of-pearl, just like your mamma's best tea table."
"The Indians used shells for wampum!" cried Jack, who was much interested in all things Indians did.
"Yes; Indians used shells for money and to string around their necks for beads. In fact, Evelyn's string of corals that Santa Claus brought her for Christmas are first cousins to seashells. Many wonderful old violins and fairs are ornamented with mother-of-pearl, and just try to imagine the tons of charming shells that sea captains bring home for museums the world over. This is what Bibbly Wah's friend did—collected for museums. And we haven't half talked about the black lined shells that come from the West Indies and make such delightful cameos, like your daddy's stickpin. How these are cut out in little faces and profiles and portraits would take me a week of bedtime stories to tell you."
"Oh, daddy, please tell us a week of bedtime stories all at once!" cried the children.
But daddy only kissed them good night and pointed upstairs to bed. So the children hopped off without teasing.

Phidian Art Club

The Phidian Art Club held a most delightful meeting Tuesday afternoon, April 25th, at the home of Mrs. E. B. Owens, 523 East Everett street.

A rare treat was enjoyed in the music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Nangle of Des Moines, Ia. The first number was a duet, "Under the Desert Star," by Gordon Temple. They were heartily applauded and responded with, "I Would That My Love," by Mendelssohn. This was followed by a double number, "Creole Lover's Song" (Dudley Buck) and "The Floral Dance" (Katie Moss) sung by Mr. Nangle.

The paper of the afternoon was given by Miss Lillian Snyder on "Picturesque Features of New York and the Hudson River," and was very much enjoyed. Miss Snyder, in a very interesting way, gave a graphic description of the city, in which she said that New York is emblematic of its builders. Besides being a great city commercially, New York is represented by great artists. If an attempt should be made to set down the different ideas of New York as presented by these artists, it would record a history of the twentieth century. The Hudson river, famed for its natural scenery, is bordered by a series of small mountain ranges. Scenes of various stories lie along its banks, prominent among them being the well known story of Rip Van Winkle. Crowning the heights of the Hudson we find buildings of Columbia University.

The reading of this paper, so rich in beautiful descriptions, ended, the club was favored with a solo by Mrs. Nangle, singing, "When the Roses Fall" by Kate Vannah. As an encore she gave a reading, "In the Usual Way," Mr. and Mrs. Nangle are artists of rare ability and Phidian members appreciated very much the great treat afforded them.

The program closed with a very interesting current topics given by Mrs. J. B. Crabtree. The social hour—one of great pleasure—followed, with the pleasure augmented by the delicious refreshments served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Rosbrook entertained Tuesday evening a group of friends at a supper.

SHERMAN HITS THE NAIL.

"I decline to extend to my fellow citizens the right to thrust themselves between the hostile muzzles of battleships and then call on me to shed the blood of my neighbors if they get hurt," said Senator L. Y. Sherman, endorsed by the only resolution adopted in the Republican state convention held last week at Peoria, in an address that was a whip of scorpions for the inefficiency, the weakness and the blundering of the national administration that has brought the nation to the verge of bloody warfare and industrial ruin.

"I ought not to be here at this time," he said, when the cheers that rose and fell, to rise again for ten minutes, had at last subsided. "I ought to be in my seat at the capitol, but I can properly be where republicans are gathered together, that the administration now in power may not be allowed to repeat itself.

"Two years ago a hostile army crossed the borders of Belgium, violating her neutrality. A year ago the Lusitania was sunk. The administration let the invasion of Belgium's neutrality go unprotected. The proper time to have made that protest and threat of breaking off diplomatic relations was a year ago come May, without waiting to this late day and the exigencies of politics to provoke a protest upon submarine warfare.

"The time to make protest was when the invasion was made. It was not to wait the beginning of a campaign (cheers).

"The seas are as open to belligerent nations to fight upon as they are to the traffic of peaceful nations. If two nations occupy a portion of the sea in naval battle I consider it my duty as a peaceful citizen to stay away. I decline to extend to my fellow citizens the right to thrust themselves between the hostile muzzles of warships and then call on me to shed the blood of my neighbors if they get hurt."

"The rights of a hundred million people to be at peace is more important than of a few who expose life and limb in a foreign warfare."

"I have arrived at the conclusion that whatever the exigencies of the democratic party may demand, I decline to furnish them with battle scarred veterans." (Cheers and laughter).

"I believe the prudent course to adopt is to warn such of our citizens as persist in traveling under the conditions abroad to restrain their nomadic instinct until a safer time arrives.

"If the president breaks off diplomatic relations, which invites war, and the question of declining war comes before congress, I shall vote against it (cheers).

"Future problems will be met when they arrive. I am speaking of the present. The death grapple of the old nations of Europe did not grow out of an insignificant assassination. It grew from the commercial rivalry and territorial ambition of rival nations of crowned cousins on their thrones jealous of each other. Back of it all is Waterloo and Blenheim, and with it all, what have we to do?

"I can't be neutral and still put Americans on armed merchant ships loaded with shrapnel and gun cotton and carrying a few Americans as an insurance. We of the west see more clearly than those who infest the Atlantic coast who let their sympathy follow their pocketbooks."

ONE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

Now that a change is being made in the school superintendency it is an extremely advisable time to consider the proposition of one superintendent of schools for both sides of the river. This plan has been talked of quite extensively in Dixon and seems to have met with approval and support in most instances. The Telegraph suggested the idea editorially some weeks ago and a delegation from the Woman's club came to this office and asked the editor to go further with the plan and stated that the idea met with the approval of the women of the city.

Such a step would add efficiency to the school system of Dixon. There should not be two school districts in any city, but since we have that unfortunate condition here it is certainly necessary that we do away with as many of the evil features of the condition as we can.

DUBLIN REVOLT SHOT TO PIECES

Irish Volunteers Aid Authorities to End Uprising.

Rebels' Headquarters Seized.

The prime minister was able to say, however, that Liberty Hall, the headquarters of the Sinn Fein party, and St. Stephen's Green, which seemed to have been center of the rising, had been recaptured by the military, who were re-enforced by the troops from England and Belfast.

National volunteers, Mr. Asquith said, had turned out to assist the authorities, while many local civilians had offered their aid.

Premier Asquith told the house that drastic action to suppress the movement in Ireland was being taken.

Country Generally Is Quiet.

Outside of Dublin, he said, the country was tranquil. The premier added that steps were being taken to acquaint neutral countries of the real significance of "this most recent German campaign."

The following telegram was received in London from Baron Wimborne, lord lieutenant for Ireland, dated Dublin: "The situation is satisfactory. Stephen's green has been occupied. Eleven insurgents have been killed. The provincial news is reassuring."

Hostage Story Dispelled.

The foregoing dispatch telling of the receipt of a telegram in London from Lord Wimborne apparently disposes of the report published in the United States and said to have been contained in a cipher cablegram that the viceroy had been held as a hostage for Irish freedom, or further concessions to Ireland, and also that his life would be forfeited if Sir Roger Casement were executed.

At the opening of the house of commons Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, said it was difficult to say whether any routes to Ireland were open or closed. He added that he was going there if he could make arrangements.

Dublin Castle Assault Fails.

London, April 27.—In the course of a statement in the house of lords, Lord Lansdowne said that the rebels in Dublin had made a half-hearted attack on Monday on Dublin castle. There was now a complete cordon of troops around the center of Dublin, he added.

The casualties at Dublin, according to Lord Lansdowne's statement, were fifteen killed and twenty-one wounded, besides two royal volunteers and two policemen killed and six loyal volunteers wounded.

T. P. TAYLOR

"The greatest health insurance in the world is the simplest," he said. "I never could quite understand why people are so negligent in the use of the simplest of all preventives of illness. It's all a matter of keeping the bowels open. The man who carries a little box of Rexall Orderlies has got a good health policy in his pocket. I believe they are the best laxative ever prepared, and their pleasant taste appeals to men, women and children alike."

YOU CAN BE SURE ABOUT Clothes Quality

THERE'S a lot of talk going around about the bad condition of the clothing market. Some are saying that on account of the war, dyes are doubtful, all-wool fabrics are hard to get, prices are uncertain. But we're not worrying, and you needn't: just leave it to us.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

have just sent us a letter about it; here is what they say:

"Our fabrics will continue to be, as in the past, absolutely all-wool; our colors will be, as in the past, reliable.

"There is no need to be worried about market conditions, or anxious over what we are going to do for our customers. We shall do what we have always done—make the best clothes possible, sell them at the lowest prices possible, deliver them as promptly as possible; and put behind every article we produce a positive and unqualified guarantee of the complete satisfaction of the wearer.

"Conditions of the market may change; we may come or go; but the policy of this house will not change; and you may rest absolutely in that assurance."

You see where your interest as a clothes-buyer points; you'll probably be sorry if you try to get satisfaction in "cheap" clothes.

Dramatic Notes

PRINCESS THEATRE.

Tonight the Princess theatre will show the third episode of "The Girl and the Game" featuring Helen Holmes, the fearless film star. This episode is entitled "Helen's Perilous Escape" and abounds in thrills and excitement. Thousands are reading the story which is running in the Evening Telegraph and the opinion of everyone who has seen the pictures are full of praise. Each episode is complete in itself. Together with this picture a three reel American drama entitled "The Code of Honor" will be shown with Vivian Rich and Alfred Vosburg in the leading roles, a wonderful screen production with a military atmosphere. Tomorrow night Marguerite Fisher will be seen in a Mutual Masterpiece de luxe entitled "The Miracle of Life" in four acts. The Mutual Week-ly will also be shown.

Memorial Service

The members of the Grand Army Post, the Woman's Relief Corps, and Camp Baldwin, No. 23, U. S. W. V., will hold a memorial service jointly Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at G. A. R. hall for the members of these organizations who have passed away during the past year. The service will be a ritualistic one in charge of the Commander of the Post, R. W. Johnson, the W. R. C. president, Mrs. Eastman, and Commander Bott of the Spanish War Veterans.

Discussing government ownership recently, Senator Weeks of Massachusetts pointed out that it would cost the United States $15,000,000,000 to take over its railroads and that if the government owned the railways there would be a loss in the taxes it now obtains amounting to about $140,000,000 a year. These are striking figures.

A layman would have supposed himself presumptuous in advising the New York subway engineers that an underground highway needs adequate drains as well as a surface highway, but it seems that the warning would have been paid.

By GEORGE FITCH
Author of "At Good Old Siwash" SHAKESPEARE

About this date in April William Shakespeare was born in a fine old timbered house in Stratford-on-Avon, England. This fact alone has raised the value of the house a hundred fold, but its owner of that time did not discover it until it was everlastingly too late—for him.

Shakespeare was an ordinary boy and was not thought much of in Stratford, because he wore his hair short and wasted his time in learning to read and in poaching on Anne Hathaway. No crepe was hung on the city hall when he left Stratford and went to London, and even after he became famous and was allowed to how to some ninth-rate duchesses, the home people used to say, "What, Will Shakespeare famous! Nonsense. I remember him when Sir Thomas had him whipped for deer stalking."

But Shakespeare persisted in writing plays, and as he was his own manager he got them all acted and became rich, retiring afterward to Stratford and dying with much pomp and ceremony, so that he was buried in the village church itself, instead of being put on the waiting list among the pickers in the tombs outside.

After he died, Shakespeare became constantly more noted and people began to say that it was a pity there were not writers like Shakespeare in these degenerate days. They have been saying so ever since. He has now been dead over 370 years, but the best thing said of any playwright is the fact that his stuff sounds like Shakespeare. And usually he has to say it to himself.

Shakespeare borrowed most of his plots from the Italians, who were great story-tellers, if you weren't too fastidious about the stories. He wrote them in drama, in which all the characters speak in beautiful and stately blank verse saying an average of one deep, eternal philosophic truth per line. He wrote comedies and tragedies and sonnets and poetry, though most of the latter has to be kept on ice. His tragedies are best known because of the sonorous and intellectual manner in which the characters die singly and in windrows.

If Shakespeare lived today he would have waited for four years to have his first comedy read and accepted—after which it would have been re-written by the stage carpenter and the leading lady and put on with interpolated songs and a costume chorus with a play doctor in the rear of the theatre keeping track of the laughs with a hand compometer. Then he would have written nine plays the next year, after which he would have spent the rest of his life getting into trouble for speeding in various ways. Let us be thankful that Shakespeare lived when he did.

LINERS MUST NOT BE ARMED AGGRESSIVELY

U. S. May Keep Americans off Some Ships.

Washington, April 27.—Warning is to be issued to Americans to refrain from traveling on certain armed ships as soon as the administration can learn what vessels are under mandatory orders from the allied governments.

The state department has asked the allies to reveal what orders are issued to armed ships. If these orders carry a penalty for disobeying or are mandatory in any sense to ship commanders, this government plans to notify Americans and to warn them they are not immune if they travel on them.

These facts were revealed at the state department apropos of the sentence in the armed-ship memorandum made public, which read:

"Any person taking passage on such a vessel can not expect immunity other than that accorded persons who are on board a warship."

Americans leaving United States ports aboard armed merchantmen will be warned if this government considers the vessels are illegally armed. It was further explained. The department is still waiting for the official copies of the admiralty orders from England.

GERMANS CAPTURE 2 LINES OF TRENCHES

French Take Prisoners and Repulse Aisne Attacks.

Paris, April 27.—German troops captured the first and second line of French trenches on Hill 542, northeast of Calles, in fighting in the Vosges Mountains taking eighty-four prisoners, the war office announces. South of La Bassee Canal a strong English attack was repulsed. Between Dead Man's Hill and Caurettes wood, northwest of Verdun, fierce attacks were anticipated and frustrated.

Paris, April 27.—An intense bombardment of Avocourt wood and Hill 304 by heavy German guns in the night was reported in the official statement from the war office, but no important infantry actions occurred on the Verdun front.

The Germans attempted to attack a small French post near Emmeren, in Lorraine, but were repulsed with heavy losses. Prisoners admit that the Germans also lost heavily in attacks against the French salient at La Chapelle.

North of the Aisne French troops took seventy-two prisoners in the course of Tuesday's attack, which resulted in the capture of a small wood south of Bois des Buttes. Several German reconnaissance parties were dispersed on the Paissy and Troyon sectors.

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Dixon Readers.
Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Dixon woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. C. Charlton, 516 Lincoln Ave., Dixon, says: "I suffered for a long time from pains across my back and sides. The trouble was particularly severe at night and early in the morning. When I bent over to lift anything, I was hardly able to straighten up again. My kidneys were inactive, too. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Leake Bros. Co.'s Drug Store, weren't long in giving me relief." (Statement given May 21, 1912.)

On January 21, 1915, Mrs. Charlton said: "I use Doan's Kidney Pills whenever my back gets lame or sore and they always help me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Charlton has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

German Flyer Is Defeated in Battle With Aeroplane Two Miles in Air—French Airman Intercepts Big Dirigible at Zebrugge Returning from Raid.

Berlin, April 27.—In a continuation of the navy skirmishing that began off the Flanders coast on Monday a British destroyer was badly damaged by German naval forces and an auxiliary steamer was sunk and her crew captured and taken to Zebrugge, it was officially announced.

Berlin, April 27.—In a Zeppelin raid over England fortified port establishments at London, Colchester, Blackwater and Ramsgate were attacked, the war office announces. The French port and large British supply depot at St. Helier, St. Pierre and also were attacked.

Sink Steamer at Lowestoft.
The German naval forces which bombarded Lowestoft sank the steamer King Stephen and captured her crew, it was officially announced. This is the same steamer that refused to rescue the crew of the Zeppelin L-17, which dropped into the North sea.

It also was announced that a destroyer and another scout boat, aside from the King Stephen, were sunk and that on one of the cruisers at St. Helier a bad fire was observed.

Yarmouth Also Bombarded.
London, April 27.—Yarmouth was bombarded, as well as Lowestoft, by the German warships which attacked the eastern coast. Four persons were killed and twelve wounded.

Twenty ships in Recent Attack.
The following official account of the German naval raid Monday off the coast of England was given out:

"The bombardment of Lowestoft and Yarmouth began at 4:10 o'clock and lasted about half an hour. Despite the heavy guns employed by the enemy ships, the damage was relatively slight. A convalescent home, a swimming bath, the pier and forty dwelling houses were extensively damaged. Some 200 dwelling houses were slightly damaged.

"Two men, one woman and one child were killed. Three persons were seriously wounded and nine slightly wounded.

"Fire was opened on Great Yarmouth at the same time. Here the damage was one large building seriously damaged by fire and another building slightly damaged by shell fire."

The German squadron, consisting of twenty ships, was sighted from the Dutch island of Vlieland Tuesday morning, going eastward, says a dispatch from Rotterdam to the Evening Star. The warships were preceded by Zeppelin balloons.

Fight Duel Two Miles Up.

Paris, April 27.—A French aeroplane and a Zeppelin fought a duel at an altitude of 1,000 meters near Zebrugge. The aeroplane fired nine incendiary shells at the Zeppelin, which appeared to have been damaged.

The engagement, occurring more than two miles above the earth, was fought at 3 o'clock in the morning. At the same time another French aeroplane, armed with cannon, fired numerous projectiles on a German torpedo boat off Ostend. A German aeroplane of the Fokker type was brought down in an aerial combat near Lunenburg, France.

SIR ROGER MAY LOSE HEAD

London Newspaper Hints Casement Will Get Extreme Penalty.

London, April 27.—Sir Roger Casement, leader of the separatist faction in Ireland, who was captured while attempting to land arms from Germany on the Irish coast, was conveyed across Ireland Saturday by a strong armed escort who knew the prisoner only by two initials. He arrived in London without incident, and immediately was lodged in the Metropolitan prison.

The Express suggests the possibility that Sir Roger, if convicted of high treason, may be beheaded, as under the existing law a person found guilty of this offense may, by crown warrant, be given the penalty of beheading instead of hanging.

COULDN'T STAND COMFORT

Vagrant Dies After He Is Given Bath and Food.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 27.—Starving because he was given wholesome food and disheartened because he was in a place of cleanliness, Ferdinand Nurnburg, forty-two years old, a Chicago man, who was arrested for vagrancy died at the House of Correction, where he was serving a ninety-day term.

The man's stomach, according to attendants at the House of Correction, could not digest the food given him. Nurnburg could not retain the food provided, and a modified form of starvation set in, which caused his death.

"Of Another Kidney."

BROILED KIDNEYS.—The best lamb's kidneys, absolutely fresh, should be chosen for broiling.
Wash them thoroughly and plunge them into salted boiling water. Remove from the fire and leave five minutes. Then cut the kidneys almost in two, not severing them, but spreading each flat and fastening it open with a skewer. Dip in melted butter and broil brown. Serve with croutons.

Kidney and Bacon.—Chop fine a medium sized onion and mix it with a teaspoonful of breadcrumbs, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, the grated rind of half a lemon and one well beaten egg. Spread this mixture on slices of bacon and wrap each slice of bacon around a well washed kidney.
Skewer the bacon in place and bake the kidneys in the oven until done. Serve with a brown gravy.

Sautéed Kidneys.—Slice the kidneys in three or four slices and put them in a skillet with a tablespoonful of butter.
Cover and cook for five minutes. Then uncover and cook until well done, turning often. Thicken the gravy in the pan, season well and pour over the kidneys on a hot dish.

Kidney Omelet.—Boil kidneys until tender, drain and slice very thin. Add to an omelet when it is ready to roll.

Kidney Croquettes.—Boil kidneys and chop fine. Mix them—two cupsfuls —with two tablespoonfuls of breadcrumbs, a teaspoonful of chopped onion, pepper and salt to taste and a beaten egg. Form into rolls, dip into breadcrumbs and beaten egg and brown in deep hot fat.

Kidney on Toast.—Boil kidneys tender, drain, chop and mix with cream sauce. Serve on slices of crisp hot toast.

Kidney Patties.—Prepare the creamed kidneys and put them into patty cases. Sprinkle with chopped parsley.

Kidney Rolls.—Mix one-half cupful of stale breadcrumbs, one-half onion finely chopped and one-half tablespoonful finely chopped parsley. Season with salt and pepper and moisten with beaten egg. Spread mixture on thin slice of bacon and fasten around pieces of lamb's kidney, using skewers. Bake in a hot oven twenty minutes.

Hearing but Not Listening.

In the course of a visit to Nagpur, the capital of the central provinces, writes
Mr. Stanley Coxon in his Indian reminiscences, I heard of an amusing ending to a civil case. It was an appeal case, and on one side was a Mr. Stan-yon, an English barrister, and on the other a number of native pleaders.
The arguments on both sides had been heard, and the case closed for judgment.

Suddenly one of the native pleaders got up and addressed the court once more. Mr. Stanyon suffered it for some time; but, losing patience, he also stood up and, addressing the court, said,
"Your honor, I would beg with all respect to point out to the court that my learned friend opposite is entirely out of order in addressing the court, and if I may be permitted to say so the court has no right to be listening to him."

The court, who at that time was writing, put his head over the desk and said, "Mr. Stanyon, it's a great piece of impertinence on your part to assume that the court is listening to him."

Moving Picture Shows.

An observer says the reason that all classes like motion picture plays is that each person puts into the mouths of the silent actors the exclamations, words and lines that he himself would use under like circumstances.

Incidents and situations are flashed on the screen, but the spectator tells the unspoken story to himself, and there is no possibility of artificial, strained or incomprehensible dialogue.
What the spectator imagines is the thing that is natural to him. To one who watches Hamlet with Yorick's skull the words of the play may come, "Imperious Caesar, dead and turned to clay, might stop a hole to keep the wind away." To another's imagination Hamlet says, "Well, we all gotta come to it."

Could explanation be simpler, yet more profoundly true? — Richmond Times-Dispatch.

The Early Circus.

Leaving out of count the great circuses of Rome and Antioch and coming down to something of modern times, the first circus in England was on a footpath known as Halfpenny Hatch, in the Waterloo road, London.
There, in 1770, Astley's first performance was given, with the aid of a drum, two fives and one clown. A charge of sixpence was made for the front standing places. There was no building and not even a tent, but merely a ring of ropes and stakes. Primitive as were the arrangements, Astley soon attracted good audiences and was able to add to his program conjuring, transparencies, vaulting and tumbling, with displays of fireworks. In course of time he was able to hire an inclosed ground and erected seats under a substantial roof. He called the place Astley's amphitheater riding house.

Women and Golf in Olden Days.

Clark, in his "Golf, a Royal and Ancient Game," printed a few decades ago, recounts how strangers at the old St. Andrews course abroad were given a trial on the famous holes, and if they proved to be of the tribe of turf diggers and sand lifters they were ignominiously thrust into the outer darkness of the "women's green." The accommodations accorded to women in the old days were in the nature of a sop to Cerebus, merely to keep them quiet and satisfied while the men indulged in the more serious pursuit of a serious business with a better equipment on a finer course. In the annals of one old golf club it is recorded that since a certain green was habitually flooded and generally useless it was recommended that a new hole be built in its place and the old green given over to the women.

The Sleep of Seeds.

Oats, corn, fennel and some flower seeds were exposed during 118 days to a temperature of 40 degrees F., below zero. Afterward, when placed in suitable surroundings, nearly all of the fennel, oat and corn seeds and many of the others germinated. It is concluded that the protoplasm, or the principle of life, in a resting seed is in a state of inaction not comparable to that of a smoldering fire, but rather like that of a chemical mixture which is capable of forming a combination whenever the required conditions of temperature and illumination are present.

How She Was Named.

A little colored girl, a newcomer in Sunday school, gave her name to the teacher as "Fertilizer Johnson." Later the teacher asked the child's mother if that was right.

"Yes, ma'am, dat's her name," said the fond parent. "You see, she was named for me and her father. Her father's name am Ferdinand, and my name is Liza. So we named her Fertilizer."—Boston Transcript.

Copper Cams From Cyprus.

The word copper is generally admitted to be derived from Cyprus, as it was from that island that the ancient Romans first procured their supplies.
In those remote days Cyprus and Rhodes were the great copper producing districts.

The test of a lover is not how many he has loved, but how well; the test of a philanthropist is not how well he has loved, but how many.—Alice Well-
